Mission Worship – Debut Album

If there's one thing that drives us at Kingsway, it's songs. The sort that inspire movements, that reawaken faith and bind Christians together across the world. In Christ Alone: Mission Worship is a brand new album that's full of the very best that we have to offer.

Across the two CDs are 28 of the greatest worship songs refreshing the church today. From songs that send us out – like Tim Hughes' 'God Of Justice' and Delirious?'s 'HistoryMaker' – to songs that express faith in the midst of struggles – like Matt Redman's 'Blessed Be Your Name', Tim's 'Whole World In His Hands' and 'God Of Our Yesterdays', sung by the incomparable Chris McClarney.

Stuart Townend's 'Creation King' and 'Behold The Lamb' – as well as the title track – bring songs of substance to the table, while Aaron Keyes delivers trademark Biblical truth and sensitivity with the track 'Blessing And Honour'.

Brenton Brown, Lou Fellingham, Ben Cantelon... they all add to the strongest album we could possibly make.

These are exciting days for the church. Having been revived in the 80s and 90s, there is now an understanding that worship should lead not only to our own transformation, but to the building of the kingdom itself. When we sing, not only are we reminding ourselves that we are not the centre of our universe, but we are connecting with God's heart. The fight for justice and the help of the poor will naturally flow as a result.

So, Mission Worship is our focus here at Kingsway; worship that sings louder, that reaches further and loves more boldly.

And there's plenty more where this came from. Seriously. Plenty more; we'll be releasing one of these stunning Mission Worship albums every four months. The Mission Worship series will grow and grow, bringing even more songs of substance to the church.
